Seminar on 'Architecture of Advanced Java'

REPORT

Date : January 7, 2015
Time : 2:00 pm to 3:00 pm
Venue : III year BCA class room
Beneficiaries : Students of III year BCA

On the 7th of January, 2015 the department of Computer Science conducted a seminar on the architecture of Advanced Java. The students were addressed by Mr. Gopal, Corporate Trainer, from Aptech, who has more than 6years of experience in working with Java. Mr. Gopal has been training students in various versions of Java such as JSP, J2EE and Android. The session conveyed a clear idea about the extensive use of Java in innumerable areas of technology. There are lots of applications and websites that will not work unless you have Java installed, and more are created every day. Java is fast, secure, and reliable. From laptops to datacenters, game consoles to scientific supercomputers, cell phones to the Internet, Java is everywhere!

In addition to giving us a brief on Java, we were also taught about Java Platform, Standard Edition or Java SE is a widely used platform for development and deployment of portable applications for desktop and server environments. Java SE uses the object-oriented Java programming language. It is part of the Java software platform family. Java SE defines a wide range of general purpose APIs – such as Java APIs for the Java Class Library – and also includes the Java Language Specification and the Java Virtual Machine Specification. The session instilled new ideas in the minds of students to develop a good project.

Following the session, the final year students were provided with a training program of 60 hrs in concern with their project completion.

REPORT

Date : August 1-2, 2015
Time : 9:00 am to 4:00 pm
Venue : Auditorium
Beneficiaries : Students of BCA

The department of Computer Science had organized a two days' skill development workshop on "Internet of Things (IoT) and Smart home" in association with Frugal Labs Tech Solutions Private Ltd. Bangalore. The session was hosted by Anirban Chowdhury, Director, Head product development and sales at Frugal labs.

The two day workshop was indeed a gateway to the Internet of Things. Each individual took part effectively for the hands on session as students were made into groups each group with 5 students with a laptop and a smart phone.

On the day1 of the workshop the basic introduction to internet of things was given, followed by various topics such as cloud, devices, user interfaces and arduino programming. The day2 of the session was embedded with programming concepts, gateway and creation of mobile app.

The whole idea of the workshop laid as how devices or things can be connected to the internet for the better use. Mainly the devices are made smart by the applications or methods of internet of things. Devices such as thermostat, motion detector, home devices, and security systems are connected to a gateway for signal and data transfer which is directed to a cloud for data storage and it manipulates the data. And then to the mobile phone or tablets through a mobile application the data is collected and the device is controlled. The softwares used for hands on sessions are: arduino programming and Bluetooth connectivity for connecting the device o the internet, gateway is created using python and my SQL. Mobile app is created using python for android. The workshop was indeed a useful and interesting and the technical sessions were concluded by taking formal feedback from participants.
