Anthropological Survey of India

Anthropological Survey of India is a premier research institute for anthropological research in bio-cultural studies. It is also recognised as one of the most advanced centres for research and training in anthropology and allied disciplines. It endeavours to bring in a multi-disciplinary approach, with both social/cultural and physical/biological divisions. Under Cultural Anthropology division, there are Linguistics, Human Ecology, Psychology and Museum sections. Paleoanthropology, Biochemistry, Statistics and DNA laboratories form an integral part of the Physical Anthropology section. The documentation and dissemination activities are supported by different units, such as, Visual Anthropology, Photography and Sound Sections. The Survey has an excellent collection of rare and rich national and international books and journals, which enrich the library section, making it of national significance. For distribution and sale of the Survey's publication, there is also a publication and distribution unit.

St. Claret College

St. Claret College (SCC) was established in 2005 by the international Missionary Congregation of Claretians who manage two universities and over 150 educational institutions in 66 countries around the world. St. Claret College is managed by the Claretian Society for Integral Human Development established with the aim of providing holistic and quality higher education. Apart from St. Claret College, the campus shelters five other educational institutions: St. Claret School, Anthony Claret (AC) School, St. Claret Evening College and St. Claret Pre-University College & St. Claret Institute of Management. Moved by the spiritual genius of St. Anthony Mary Claret, its patron, and supported by the robust Christian intellectual tradition, St. Claret College offers value based education to transform students to be enlightened leaders and networkers who bring about a civilization of love and harmony. St. Claret College is recognized by UGC, permanently affiliated to Bangalore University and is NAAC accredited with A+ Grade.

The Department of Humanities

The Department of Humanities at SCC was established at the inception of the College in 2005-06 with BA Degree programme. The Department offers undergraduate (3 years/6 semesters) programme in Arts (BA) with specialization in Journalism, Psychology, English, Economics, Political Science and Sociology. The objective of the Department is to provide holistic education in the academics and co-curricular aspects that enable students to be socially conscious and morally responsible citizens. The Department strives to integrate human values and provide socio-cultural perspectives that would enrich students' lives and careers in immeasurable ways.

Context of Claret Humanities Conference 2023

Claret Humanities conference's main goal is to explore the complex relationship between humanities and youth, with a particular emphasis on the insightful and unique perspectives that humanities offer in understanding the experiences, problems, and aspirations of young people in the society. Our goal is to encourage critical thinking, and a better understanding of the complex relationships between youth and society by investigating the many facets of the humanities. The conference aims to identify the long-lasting effects of humanities on the social framework that influences future generations, from investigating historical values and social structures to tackling contemporary concerns. Scholars, researchers, educators, and practitioners from a variety of professions will be able to engage in stimulating debates during this conference. Participants will get the chance to share their research findings and real-world experiences relating to the influence of the humanities on youth and society through paper presentations and discussions.
