B) Read the following passage and answer the questions below :

The first principle of teaching is that nothing can be taught. The teacher is not an instructor or task-master, he is a helper and a guide. This business is to suggest and not to impose, he does not actually train the pupil's mind, he only shows him how to perfect his instruments of knowledge and helps and encourages him in the process. He does not impart knowledge to him; he shows him how to acquire knowledge for himself. He does not call forth the knowledge that is within; he only shows him where it lies and how it can be habituated to rise to the surface. The distinction that reserves this principle for teaching of adolescent and adult minds and denies this application to the child is a conservative and unintelligent doctrine. Child or man, boy or girl, there is one sound principle of good teaching. Difference of age only serves to diminish or increase the amount of help and guidance necessary; it does not change the nature.
